Essential Driver Training

What is a competent driver?

A competent driver is able to drive with care and has the knowledge, skills and attitude to deal with hazards safely. To be a competent driver you should:

- have good observation skills,
- be considerate to other road users and share the road safely with them,
- exercise self-control and use your own judgement to ensure your safety, the safety of your passengers and that of other road users,
- understand the consequences of choices between safe and risky driving,
- never take risks on the road or drive aggressively.

How to become a competent driver

The Road Safety Authority (RSA) and road safety organisations around the world have tried to find out what makes people competent and safe drivers. It's clear that the way you learn to drive is most important. We know that learners become better and safer drivers when their learning is structured and planned.

So to help you become a safer driver, we have created a 12 hour Essential Driver Training (EDT) course. If your first category B learner permit (code 991 in column marked restrictions/information) is dated on or after 4 April 2011 (look at ó/from column on the permit), you must take the EDT course. You can get more information on licence categories from www.rsa.ie

Before we tell you more about EDT, here is a guide to some of the terms we use in this booklet and how they relate to the EDT course.

Learner permit

A learner permit allows you to drive, with some restrictions, so you can get the practice you need to become a safe, competent driver before you take your test. You must only drive with an experienced driver in the car. This driver acts as your Sponsor.

You are not allowed to take a driving test for six months after the date in the ó/ from column on your permit. This gives you a chance to take the EDT course, to practise and to gain driving experience. Research shows that the longer a learner is supervised while driving, the less likely they are to be involved in a crash. A learner permit currently lasts for two years for the first and second permit and for one year for a third or more. Always carry your learner permit while you're driving.

Sponsor

Your Sponsor supervises your driving practice between lessons. To get the most from your driving lessons, you must practise, practise, practise and the best person to do this with is your Sponsor. This is a responsible role so you should choose someone that you feel comfortable with. This might be a family member, such as a parent, aunt or uncle. Your Sponsor must be able to give you the time and effort to help you to learn, without payment. Sponsors must hold a full car driving licence for at least two years but more importantly should have lots of driving experience that you can benefit from.

Your Sponsor should:

- understand and support the work of your Approved Driving Instructor (ADI),
- understand the difficulties you face while learning,
- stay calm and patient under pressure,
- demonstrate good driving behaviour themselves,

- appreciate how important their role is,
- take time to meet your ADI to discuss your progress.

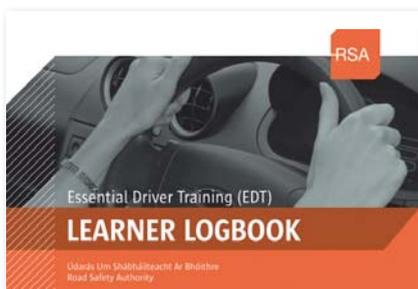

You will get the best results when you, your ADI and your Sponsor work closely together.

Approved Driving Instructor (ADI)

Only instructors approved by the RSA can deliver the Essential Driver Training (EDT) course, only those approved can give you the official Logbook. ADIs have the training resources to deliver the course. We monitor the work of each ADI so you can learn with confidence. To find an ADI in your area, visit our website www.rsa.ie and follow the link 'Find an Instructor'.

Your ADI will keep you informed of your progress as you build up your knowledge and skills throughout the course. If for any reason you are not happy with your training or have concerns about your progress, please talk to your ADI first. They will probably be able to sort out any issues you have. You can switch ADIs during the course but remember to get your ADI to sign off on each lesson you have completed before making any change. If you have any problems or need more information, contact our Approved Driving Instruction Unit on 1890 50 60 80 or email adi@rsa.ie.

Logbook

At your first lesson, your ADI will give you a personal Logbook which you must hold on to, even if you change ADIs. Your Logbook sets out the lesson plan for each lesson of the Essential Driver Training (EDT) course. As you complete each lesson, your ADI will record your progress in your Logbook and sign it.

Take care of your Logbook – keep it safe and bring it along with you to each lesson so your ADI can update it. It's your responsibility to make sure your Logbook is updated after each lesson. If you switch to another ADI, they can only sign off on the lessons you complete with them.

Your Sponsor can check your Logbook for feedback. It will help them to guide your driving practice and prepare you for later lessons. You should keep your Logbook even after you finish your training, as you may be asked for it on the day of your driving test.

Now that you are more familiar with some of the terms we use, let's look at what EDT is and what it involves for you.

What is EDT?

EDT stands for Essential Driver Training, a course for learner drivers with permits for category B vehicles, such as cars and light vans. EDT will help you learn some of the most vital driving skills as well as improve your knowledge and understanding of road safety.

We have developed this course from the Learner Driver Training (LDT) syllabus, which covers all of the skills and behaviours that a competent driver needs to have. During your training, your ADI will refer to this syllabus. You can view it at any time at www.rsa.ie.

There are 12 one-hour lessons in the course. Appendix A in this booklet has the syllabus for each of the lessons and explains what you should expect from each lesson. You must take the lessons in the order set out but by the time you get to Lesson 9, you and your ADI can decide on the order of lessons 9-12 as you should have enough experience by then. Your ADI will record each lesson in your Logbook.

Each lesson has a set of expected outcomes – these describe what you should be able to do at the end of a lesson. Your ADI will select routes that will allow you to use the skills covered in the lesson. At the end of each lesson, your ADI will tell you what skills you should practise with your Sponsor. You must play your part and prepare for the next lesson.

Remember – the EDT course alone is not enough to make you a competent driver. You will need to practise as much as possible with your Sponsor, using the skills you have learnt in one lesson to prepare for the next lesson. To get the best from your training, you should spread your lessons over six months and leave at least two weeks between each lesson for practice. Your ADI and your Sponsor will advise you about other instruction and support you may need while you learn to drive.

Why do I need to do EDT?

Studies show that young, inexperienced drivers are more likely to die or be seriously injured in a crash so it's important to get the experience you need during your training. We have used a risk-based approach to develop the EDT course. This means that it focuses on learning the skills, understanding and behaviours you will need to deal with the hazards you will face when driving. We know this will make a big difference to road safety.

The course means that the training you receive from your ADI and Sponsor will be consistent, and this will help you to become a safe and responsible driver. Their role is to develop your skills and good road behaviour so that it becomes a lifelong habit.

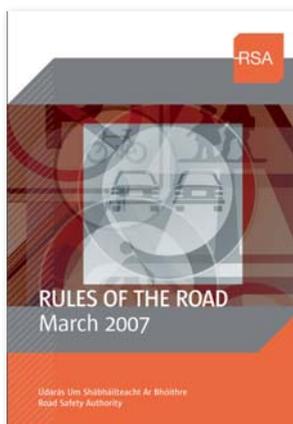

You must complete the EDT course before you can take your driving test. On the day of your test, the tester may ask to see your Logbook as evidence.

Preparing for your first lesson

When you contact an ADI, ask them for advice on how to prepare for the EDT course. They may suggest you do some reading, lessons or practice before you begin EDT. If you follow your ADI's advice and practise driving with your Sponsor between your lessons, you should be able to achieve the expected outcomes set out in each lesson plan.

These booklets are good resources for learning:

- The Rules of The Road
- Learning to Drive manual
- EDT Logbook

Before you attend your first lesson, make sure you have everything you need. Your ADI will check your learner permit. If you provide the vehicle for your training, they will also check insurance, motor tax, NCT and the roadworthiness of the vehicle. If your ADI is not happy with any of these, they may not go ahead with your lesson. You must sign a declaration that these are in order before each lesson.

At your first lesson, your ADI will register you and give you your Logbook. They will then set out the aims of the course and any rules about things such as asking questions and taking breaks.

At the end of each lesson, your ADI will sign and stamp your Logbook to confirm you have completed that lesson. They will also give you feedback on whether you met the outcomes for the lesson. They will advise you on what you need to practise and how to prepare for the next lesson.

Where can I practise my driving?

With a learner permit, you can drive on most roads in the Irish Republic but you are not allowed on a motorway. Your ADI or Sponsor must be with you at all times. Your Sponsor should always choose a practice area that is suited to your driving ability. They can ask your ADI for suggestions. Don't practise in heavy or fast traffic until you are confident enough to follow the pace of traffic.

What happens when I finish EDT?

This does not mean that you are finished learning – it just means you have the skills to continue learning. Safe practice of what you have learnt during the course will help you to develop the skills to be a safe and competent driver. You should practise these every time you drive with your Sponsor. Try to get as much practice as you can on different types of roads and in different traffic conditions.

To prepare for your driving test, keep a learning frame of mind as you practise.

You can do more training with your ADI and your Sponsor. A mix of formal and informal training is a good way to develop your driving skills and risk awareness. Discuss the risks and how to reduce them with your ADI and Sponsor to help you learn more quickly and effectively.

Sharing information

Please note, if you have completed the Essential Driver Training (EDT) certain information will be shared with the Road Safety Authority so it can make sure you fulfil the EDT requirements. This will include your name, driver number and details of the EDT lessons you completed.

Appendix A

Essential Driver Training

The 12 lessons in the Essential Driver Training (EDT) programme are designed to:

- help you prepare for the practical driving test;
- cover some of the most important skills and behaviours (driving habits) that a learner driver must have;
- guide your progress; and
- highlight the contribution the Approved Driving Instructor (ADI) and Sponsor (person who accompanies you while you're practising) make to this process.

We have also developed a separate Learner Driver Training (LDT) syllabus. It sets out the 'best practice' that you and your ADI should follow so that you can develop the full range of knowledge, skills and behaviours that a safe and responsible driver needs. While you are learning to drive you should cover all of these skills over time. In addition, the EDT programme focuses on the particularly crucial driving skills.

Essential Driver Training syllabus

The EDT programme does not cover all of the LDT syllabus. Instead, it focuses on the driving behaviours that research shows contribute most to collision and injuries. The EDT works with the driver to improve their knowledge, understanding and behaviour. It is designed to avoid high risk of harm to learner drivers and other road users by checking and, if necessary, correcting the driver's:

- habits;
- attitudes; and
- skills.

Each lesson should be covered in one hour. Your ADI should choose a route for your lesson that gives you the most opportunity to have relevant practice and demonstration. At the end of each lesson you should have achieved certain 'outcomes'. These are statements that will either be:

- accurate descriptions of your competence at the end of a lesson; or
- can be used by your ADI as reference points for advice to you or your Sponsor about the areas of your driving where you need more practice and what you should focus on.

Essential Driver Training syllabus

Do Lessons 1 – 8 in order

You must take EDT Lessons 1 – 8 in that order. By then, you will have built up skills and experience so Lessons 9 – 12 can be taken in any order.

Leave two weeks between lessons

You should leave at least two weeks between lessons to allow for practice and learning. This may involve further lessons with an ADI, but must also include practice sessions with a Sponsor or a mixture of both.

Reference materials

The Road Safety Authority publishes reference materials such as the Rules of the Road and the Car Learner Manual, which you may find useful.

Spread lessons over six months

If you combine practice, study and instruction you will have the best chance of meeting the expected outcomes of the EDT programme. This is why we recommend that you should take at least six months to complete the 12 EDT lessons.

LESSON 1: CAR CONTROLS AND SAFETY CHECKS	LDT Syllabus Ref(s)
How should I prepare for Lesson 1? To get the most out of this lesson and achieve the expected outcomes from this lesson, you should have familiarised yourself with: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● the Rules of the Road; ● the vehicle you will be taking the lessons in and its controls; and ● the information on preparing for safety checks. You should also have practised with your ADI, Sponsor, or both: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● to use the vehicle's primary controls such as steering wheel and brakes; ● to use the secondary controls such as windscreen wipers and lights; ● driving in quiet and safe conditions; ● some basic manoeuvres such as starting and stopping. You should practise for at least three hours before your first EDT lesson.	1.3 1.7 1.9 1.10 1.11 2.1 2.2 2.3 2.4
What is the objective for Lesson 1? During your first lesson your ADI should make sure that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● you can carry out appropriate pre-start vehicle checks, including checking the roadworthiness of the vehicle; and ● you understand the vehicle's primary and secondary controls and know how to use them correctly. What is the minimum this first lesson should cover? At the very least, this first lesson must cover:

- the use of primary and secondary controls;
- vehicle safety; and
- vehicle roadworthiness.

Expected outcomes: what should I have learned at the end of Lesson 1?

Primary and secondary controls

At the end of the first lesson, you should be familiar with the pre-start vehicle check and know the location and function of the following, and be able to show you know how to use them:

- footbrake
- handbrake or parking brake
- steering
- gears
- accelerator and clutch (where fitted)
- windscreen wipers and washers
- lights and reflectors
- horn
- front and rear demisters
- windows, doors and locks.

You should also be able to explain why their correct and appropriate use is important to your own safety and that of other road users.

Vehicle safety

You should be able to explain:

- what routine safety checks should be performed on a vehicle and demonstrate how to do these;
- the main reasons why a vehicle may not be roadworthy;
- the safety and legal consequences of driving a vehicle that is not roadworthy; and

- the main points to take into account when carrying out safety checks;

You should also be able to explain:

- the positive environmental impact of proper use of primary and secondary controls;
- how to plan a journey; and
- where relevant, journey information may be available.

How should I prepare for Lesson 2?

To achieve the expected outcomes from Lesson 2 you should have:

- completed Lesson 1.

Practice is key

To feel confident about meeting the learning objectives, you should have:

- read the expected outcomes of this lesson;
- done enough practice with your ADI, Sponsor, or both; and
- done any relevant study.

Specifically, you should practice using the primary and secondary controls, as well as carrying out routine safety checks.

You should also have read the sections of the Rules of the Road that deal with:

- correct positioning

You should have acted on any feedback your ADI gave you at the end of your last EDT lesson.

LESSON 2: CORRECT POSITIONING	LDT Syllabus Ref(s)
What is the objective for Lesson 2? During your second lesson, your ADI should make sure that you can position the car correctly on the road for the actions you are about to take. Actions include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● driving on the straight; ● cornering; ● negotiating bends and junctions; ● changing lanes; ● entering and exiting from slip roads; ● entering and exiting junctions and roundabouts; and ● correct positioning within traffic lanes. 	2.6 3.4 3.5 4.6
What is the minimum this lesson should cover? At the very least, during this lesson your ADI should take you driving in light traffic situations so that you have enough opportunity for positioning your vehicle: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● on the straight; ● in traffic lanes; ● on bends turning left and right; ● negotiating roundabouts; and ● approaching and emerging from junctions. Expected outcomes: what should I have learned by the end of the Lesson 2? At the end of the second lesson, you should be able to show that you know how to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● generally keep a safe position on the road; ● always keep a safe braking distance from other vehicles; and ● show appropriate and safe use of available road space.

How should I prepare for Lesson 3?

To achieve the expected outcomes from Lesson 3 you should have:

- completed Lesson 1 and Lesson 2.

Practice is key

To feel confident about meeting the learning objectives, you should have:

- read the expected outcomes of this lesson;
- done enough practice with your ADI, Sponsor, or both; and
- done any relevant study.

You should have practised the following for at least three hours:

- positioning the vehicle on the straight;
- cornering;
- negotiating bends and junctions;
- changing lanes;
- entering and exiting from slip roads;
- entering and exiting junctions and roundabouts; and
- correct positioning within traffic lanes.

You should also have read the sections of the Rules of the Road that deal with:

- correct positioning in these situations; and
- changing direction and making observations.

You should have acted on any feedback your ADI gave you at the end of your last EDT lesson.

LESSON 3: CHANGING DIRECTION	LDT Syllabus Ref(s)
What is the objective for Lesson 3? During this lesson your ADI should make sure that you use key observational techniques in low-risk driving situations such as in quiet residential areas, quiet local and rural roads.	1.6 2.6 2.7 3.2 3.3
What is the minimum this lesson should cover? During this lesson, you should drive in light traffic situations in order to cover the MSMM (Mirror, Signal, Mirror, Manoeuvre) routine. You should also cover basic scanning techniques when: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● turning left and right; ● turning at roundabouts; and ● when negotiating junctions. Expected outcomes: what should I have learned by the end of Lesson 3? At the end of the third lesson, you should be able to show that you can: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● use mirrors appropriately; and ● carry out the MSMM routine correctly. You should also be able to show that you can do the proper 'safety glances' when: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● moving off; ● turning; ● at junctions; and ● negotiating roundabouts. You should be able to show that you are aware of blind spots and how to compensate for them.

How should I prepare for Lesson 4?

To achieve the expected outcomes from Lesson 4, you should have;

- completed Lesson 1 to Lesson 3.

Practice is key

To feel confident about meeting the learning objectives, you should also have:

- read the expected outcomes of this lesson;
- done enough practice with your ADI, Sponsor, or both; and
- done any relevant study.

Specifically, you should have practised the key observation techniques when changing direction for at least three hours.

You should also have read the sections of the Rules of the Road that deal with:

- changing direction and observations; and
- the management of speed.

You should have acted on any feedback your ADI gave you at the end of your last EDT lesson.

LESSON 4: PROGRESSION MANAGEMENT

LDT Syllabus Ref(s)

What is the objective for Lesson 4?

During this lesson, your ADI should make sure that you can regulate and maintain good control over the speed of your vehicle in lower risk driving situations, such as quiet residential areas, quiet local and rural roads.

1.8

1.9

2.8

2.9

What is the minimum this lesson should cover?

At the very least this fourth lesson must cover the following aspects of speed management on public roads:

- controlling speed;
- speed limits;
- stopping distances;
- effects of road and weather conditions;
- driving too fast.

Expected outcomes: what should I have learned at the end of Lesson 4?

At the end of the fourth lesson, you should be able to show:

- you know how to adjust the speed of your vehicle appropriately for speed limits and road layouts.

You should also be able to explain the effects of:

- road and weather conditions; and
- a vehicle's load on stopping distances at different speeds;

You should be able to explain the potential effects of driving too fast and braking too hard on:

- your own safety;
- the safety of passengers;
- the safety of other road users; and
- on the environment.

How should I prepare for Lesson 5?

To achieve the expected outcomes from Lesson 5, you should have:

- completed Lesson 1 to Lesson 4.

Practice is key

To feel confident about meeting the learning objectives, you should also have:

- read the expected outcomes of this lesson;
- done enough practice with your ADI, Sponsor, or both; and

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● done any relevant study. Specifically, you should have practised the use of correct speed in different situations for at least three hours. You should also have read the sections in the Rules of the Road on: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● speed management; and ● correct positioning. You should have acted on any feedback your ADI gave you at the end of your last EDT lesson.
---	--

---	---------------------------------------

What is the objective for Lesson 5? During this lesson your ADI should make sure that you can correctly position your vehicle on the road for the action you are about to take. Actions include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● positioning on the straight ● cornering ● negotiating bends ● negotiating junctions ● changing lanes ● entering and exiting from slip roads ● entering and exiting junctions ● roundabouts ● reversing ● turning ● parking ● stopping You should also be able to correctly position your vehicle while progressing through traffic and within traffic lanes.	2.6 3.4 3.5 4.6
--	---

What is the minimum this lesson should cover?

During this lesson, you should drive in traffic in a variety of road conditions so that you have enough chances to position your vehicle:

- on the straight
- in traffic lanes
- on bends turning left and right
- turning left and right
- negotiating roundabouts
- approaching and emerging from junctions
- reversing
- performing a turnabout
- parking
- stopping in a confined space
- stopping in traffic.

Expected outcomes: what should I have learned by the end of the Lesson 5?

At the end of the fifth lesson, you should be able to show that you can:

- consistently maintain a safe position on the road while keeping a safe braking distance;
- make appropriate and safe use of road sharing; and
- perform manoeuvres (parking, reversing and turnabout) in challenging situations.

How should I prepare for Lesson 6?

To achieve the expected outcomes from Lesson 6, you should have:

- completed Lesson 1 to Lesson 5;

Practice is key

To feel confident about meeting the learning objectives, you should also have:

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● read the expected outcomes of this lesson; ● done enough practice with your ADI, Sponsor, or both; and ● done any relevant study. Specifically, you should have practised the use of correct positioning in different situations for at least three hours. You should also have read the sections in the Rules of the Road on: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Correct positioning; and ● Correct anticipation and reactions. You should have acted on any feedback your ADI gave you at the end of your last EDT lesson.

LESSON 6: ANTICIPATION AND REACTION	LDT Syllabus Ref(s)
What is the objective for Lesson 6? During this lesson your ADI should make sure that you: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● know how to scan the environment for potential hazards; and ● can identify and respond appropriately to potential hazards. 	3.3 4.2
What is the minimum the lesson should cover? During this lesson, your ADI should take you driving in a variety of road conditions including: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● junctions ● streets with parked cars ● streets with substantial numbers of pedestrians ● roads with multiple warning signs ● roads with poor visibility such as bends with tree cover or hill brows.

The lesson should cover potential hazards associated with:

- road junctions
- blind spots
- parked vehicles
- crossings
- roundabouts
- motorcyclists and cyclists
- road works
- pedestrians

Where it is not possible to cover one or more of these areas while driving, your ADI should ask you questions about them, which you should be able to answer.

Expected outcomes: what should I have learned by the end of Lesson 6?

You should be able to show that you can use scanning techniques to identify and respond to hazards. You should also be able to take into account potential hazards:

- by choosing the correct speed and gear;
- keeping a safe distance; and
- braking correctly.

You should be able to explain the potential effects of driving:

- at night
- in the rain
- in fog
- in snow.

You should be able to show that you can identify hazards and respond to them in good time.

How should I prepare for Lesson 7?

To achieve the expected outcomes from Lesson 7, you should have:

- completed Lesson 1 to Lesson 6.

Practice is key To feel confident about meeting the learning objectives, you should also have: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● read the expected outcomes of this lesson; ● done enough practice with your ADI, Sponsor, or both; and ● done any relevant study. Specifically, for at least three hours, you should have practised how to scan the environment for potential hazards and respond appropriately. You should also have read the sections in the Rules of the Road that deal with: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● correct reactions and anticipation; and ● sharing the road. You should have acted on any feedback your ADI gave you at the end of your last EDT lesson.

What is the objective for Lesson 7? During this lesson your ADI should make sure that you can drive with due care and attention for the road and traffic conditions. This includes taking appropriate actions when you identify hazards.	2.7 3.1 3.4
What is the minimum the lesson should cover? During this lesson, you should drive in a variety of road conditions including: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● junctions; and ● streets with parked cars. You should also drive on streets with substantial numbers of pedestrians so that you have significant interaction with them and know how and when to give way to other road users. Your ADI should also require you to deal with emergency vehicles when necessary.

Expected outcomes: what should I have learned by the end of Lesson 7?

- You should be able to show that you can enter, cross and join roads safely.
- You should know how to park safely on roads where there are other road users.
- You should be able to pass stationary and slow moving vehicles, cyclists and other road users safely and responsibly.
- You should know when and how to give way to other road users including pedestrians.
- You should know how to deal with emergency vehicles.

How should I prepare for Lesson 8?

To achieve the expected outcomes from Lesson 8, you should have:

- completed Lesson 1 to Lesson 7.

Practice is key

To feel confident about meeting the learning objectives, you should also have:

- read the expected outcomes of the next lesson (as agreed with your ADI); and
- done enough practice with your ADI, Sponsor, or both; and
- done any relevant study.

Specifically, you should have practised for at least three hours, driving with due care and attention for the road and traffic conditions. This includes taking appropriate actions when you identify hazards.

You should also have read the sections in the Rules of the Road that deal with: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● sharing the road; and ● driving safely through traffic. You should have acted on any feedback your ADI gave you at the end of your last EDT lesson.

What is the objective for Lesson 8? During this lesson your ADI should make sure that you can drive with due care and attention where there is a significant volume of other traffic.	3.1 3.4 3.5 4.3

What is the minimum the lesson should cover? This lesson should focus on: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● defensive driving; ● recognising risks to the safety of others; and ● co-operating with other road users. During the lesson, you should drive in traffic in a variety of busy road conditions so that you have significant interaction with other road users. Expected outcomes: what should I have learned by the end of Lesson 8? At the end of the eighth lesson, you should be able to show that you can: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● act appropriately and decisively while driving in traffic; ● describe actual and potential risks to other road users and manage them effectively;
--	--

- demonstrate how to use defensive driving techniques, which do not cause hesitation or impede reasonable progress; and
- demonstrate a good level of co-operation with other road users.

How should I prepare for Lessons 9 – 12?

Your next lesson could be any one of Lessons 9, 10, 11 or 12 as these can be taken in any order.

To achieve the expected outcomes from your next lesson, you should have:

- completed Lesson 1 to Lesson 8.

Before you do your next lesson, you should ask your ADI for advice on the relevant study material, practice, and/or driving lessons.

Practice is key

To feel confident about meeting the learning objectives, you should also have:

- read the expected outcomes of the next lesson (as agreed with your ADI);
- done enough practice with your ADI, Sponsor, or both; and
- done any relevant study.

Specifically, you should have practised for at least three hours, driving with due care and attention, in situations where there is a significant volume of other traffic.

You should also have read the sections in the Rules of the Road that deal with:

- driving safely through traffic

You should have acted on any feedback your ADI gave you at the end of your last EDT lesson.

LESSON 9: CHANGING DIRECTION (MORE COMPLEX SITUATIONS)	LDT Syllabus Ref(s)
What is the objective for Lesson 9? During this lesson your ADI should make sure that you can: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● carry out observational and scanning tasks when turning left and right; ● negotiate junctions; and ● change direction in more complex and challenging driving situations. Some of this lesson should involve you making independent driving decisions and, where available, you should make use of dual carriageways.	3.1 3.4 3.5 4.3

- completed Lesson 1 to Lesson 9.

You should discuss your lessons with your ADI and, based on their advice, you may also have completed some or all of Lessons 10, 11 and 12. This is because Lessons 9 to 12 can be taken in any order.

Before you do your next lesson, you should ask your ADI for advice on the relevant study material, practice, and/or driving lessons.

Practice is key

To feel confident about meeting the learning objectives, you should also have:

- read the expected outcomes of the next lesson (as agreed with your ADI);
- done enough practice with your ADI, Sponsor, or both; and
- done any relevant study.

Specifically, you should have practised the following for at least three hours:

- using the key observation techniques when changing direction in more complex or challenging driving situations; and
- independent driving decision-making.

You should also have read the sections in the Rules of the Road that deal with:

- changing directions and observations

You should have acted on any feedback your ADI gave you at the end of your last EDT lesson.

You should have acted on any feedback your ADI gave you at the end of your last EDT lesson.

LESSON 11: DRIVING CALMLY	LDT Syllabus Ref(s)
What is the objective for Lesson 11? For most of this lesson you should be driving independently and making your own decisions. During this lesson your ADI should make sure that you can remain in calm control of your vehicle in situations where	2.10 4.1 4.2 4.4

you may be:

- frustrated;
- exasperated; or
- feel threatened.

Your ADI should make sure that you understand the fundamentals of:

- being fit to drive; and
- safe loading of vehicles.

What is the minimum this lesson should cover?

In this lesson, you should experience driving situations such as:

- joining busy main roads;
- entering junctions while driving independently;
- simulating the stalling and re-starting of the vehicle; and
- parking on a road with significant numbers of other parked cars and moderate traffic volumes.

You should also cover:

- planning for a journey; and
- fitness of passengers to travel.

Expected outcomes: what should I have learned by the end of Lesson 11?

At the end of the lesson, you should be able to:

- demonstrate appropriate anticipation of and reactions to other road users;
- drive safely and independently without hesitation or prompting;
- explain how to deal with peer pressure or other distraction;
- recover promptly and smoothly if the vehicle stalls; and
- recover promptly and smoothly if conditions force you to stop.

You should also be able to explain what might cause you to be unfit to drive including the effects of:

- alcohol
- drugs
- prescribed medication
- lack of sleep
- sickness
- injury
- heightened emotions

You should be able to describe the consequences – for your own safety and for the safety of passengers and other road users – of driving in an unfit condition. You should also be able to describe the legal implications of driving in an unfit condition.

You should be able to describe the possible consequences of carrying passengers who are likely to distract you.

You should be able to explain:

- the effects on a vehicle of it being fully loaded;
- how to load a vehicle safely and securely; and
- the importance of not carrying more than the maximum number of passengers.

How should I prepare for my next lesson?

To achieve the expected outcomes from your next lesson, you should have:

- completed Lesson 1 to Lesson 8 and Lesson 11.

You should discuss your lessons with your ADI and based on their advice, you may also have completed some or all of lessons 9, 10 and 12. This is because lessons 9 to 12 can be taken in any order.

Before you do your next lesson, you should ask your ADI for advice on the relevant study material, practice, and/or driving lessons.

LESSON 12: NIGHT DRIVING	LDT Syllabus Ref(s)
What is the objective for Lesson 12? During this lesson your ADI should make sure that you can: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● use your vehicle lighting correctly; and ● respond correctly to the lights of other road users. You should also be able to maintain full control of the vehicle while: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● driving through traffic in the dark; or ● in poor lighting conditions. 	2.10 3.1 4.2 4.4 4.5 4.6
What is the minimum this lesson should cover? This lesson should take place after dark. Your ADI should ask you to drive in a variety of road conditions, including urban and rural roads. You should have significant interaction with other road users.

Expected outcomes: what should I expect by the end of Lesson 12?

At the end of this lesson, you should be able to:

- drive safely in the dark;
- drive safely where road lighting is poor; and
- describe the symptoms of poor night vision and how to deal with it.

You should also be able to show you know:

- how to use your vehicle's lighting correctly; and
- the appropriate response to other vehicle lighting, including emergency vehicle lighting.

In the event that I have not completed all 12 lessons, how should I prepare for my next lesson?

To achieve the expected outcomes from your next lesson, you should have:

- completed Lesson 1 to lesson 8 and Lesson 12.

You should discuss your lessons with your ADI and based on their advice, you may also have completed some or all of Lessons 9, 10 and 11. This is because Lessons 9 to 12 can be taken in any order.

Before you do your next lesson, you should ask your ADI for advice on the relevant study material, practice, and/or driving lessons.

To feel confident about meeting the learning objectives, you should also have:

- read the expected outcomes of the next lesson (as agreed with your ADI);
- done enough practice with your ADI, Sponsor, or both; and

- done any relevant study.

Specifically, you should have practised for at least three hours:

- responding correctly to the lights of other road users;
- maintaining full control of the vehicle while driving through traffic in the dark; and
- maintaining full control of the vehicle while driving in poor lighting conditions.

You should also have read the sections of the Rules of the Road that deal with:

- night driving; and
- driving in poor weather and lighting conditions.

You should have acted on any feedback your ADI gave you at the end of your last EDT lesson.

Completion of EDT programme

Congratulations! You have finished the EDT programme. You should now discuss with your ADI what further instruction and practice you need.

To get the best value from the programme, you should listen carefully to your ADI, consult with your Sponsor and, above all, practise, practise, practise.

The EDT programme and your Sponsor will allow you to do this in a safe environment.
